

Corelight Subprocessors

Corelight, Inc. (“Corelight”) engages the third-party entities listed below (each, a “Subprocessor”) to provide Products and Services offerings to its customers. Capitalized terms, such as “Personal Data”, “Products”, or “Support Services” have the same meaning as in Corelight’s Customer Agreement or Corelight’s Data Processing Addendum, as the case may be.

The list below contains Subprocessors for each of Corelight’s generally available Products and Support Services. The applicability of each Subprocessor listed below depends on one or more of the following: data center region, the offering purchased, and the product-specific features that a customer enables and/or opts to use. For each Subprocessor below, processing of Personal Data will be for the duration of use of the applicable offering(s) by the customer, and for the retention periods as set out in the Agreement with Corelight and any Documentation. Further information about each Subprocessor’s security measures can be found via the external links below.
